

Worksheet 3: Initial Identification of Community Success Factors

In future meetings the study team will be asking for your assistance to better understand what the CVFPP will need to be successful. This will include describing the issues your region is facing, the particular needs of the communities, and the potential for leveraging activities to get multiple and better outcomes. To assist the study team in preparing for these future sessions, we would like your thoughts on some of the key discussion items that your region will need to address. This information will be used to help the study team flag issues that will need additional emphasis.

Question 1

As an individual, think about flood management in the Central Valley. What are the topics related to integrated flood management that need to be addressed for the CVFPP to be successful? What types of concerns will your community focus on under these topics and why? (Communities may be place-based or interest-based communities.)

As a group, please record some initial thoughts on discussion areas; then jot down why this discussion area will be important to your particular community.
