Delta Stewardship Council will conduct a two-day meeting

The Delta Stewardship Council (Council) will meet August 27-28 in Sacramento. Agenda items for this two-day meeting include:

- A report on the assessment of all 160 performance measures in the Delta Plan and the identified trends.
- A recommendation to approve an additional Delta Flood Management Investment Strategy principle addressing the burden of proof borne by reclamation districts that seek State investments in nonproject levees. There will also be a summary of the Independent Science Review Panel report and an update about ongoing activities.
- A briefing on the review of the Bay Delta Conservation Plan's partially recirculated EIR/supplemental EIS, which will include the schedule to develop comments and to incorporate the Delta Independent Science Board's comments.
- A revised problem statement framing discussion on conveyance, storage, and water operations, and introducing draft guiding principles.
- The Delta Independent Science Board will recommend the appointment of Dr. Clifford Dahm as Lead Scientist for the Delta Science Program.
