Beauty, fun, importance of Delta featured in State Fair exhibit

Murals, ponds, plants, live animals and engaging activities bring the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta to life in a 6,000 square foot exhibit in the California State Fair's California Building. The California Department of Water Resources, the Delta Chamber of Commerce and other partners built the exhibit that shows fairgoers the Delta's community, tourism, history, agriculture, ecosystem, water supply, and flood control. The fair runs through Labor Day.

FEMA continues flood map discussion in Delta

The Federal Emergency Management Agency last night held the first round of discussions of flood hazard maps, also known as Flood Insurance Rate Maps (FIRMs), for those in Sacramento County. Meetings have been held in other Delta counties. FEMA has undertaken a comprehensive, nationwide effort to update these maps to reflect current information. Read more on the program's Web site.

Water Plan to focus on conveyance during Monday workshop

The California Water Plan will offer a workshop Monday, Aug. 25, on conveyance — including Delta conveyance. The session will be held in Sacramento, but it will also be available live on the telephone. You can find details here. The workshop is part of the Water Plan's discussion of Resource Management Strategies.

Delta Vision seeks your feedback next week on its strategic plan

Delta Vision will hold two public meetings in and near the Delta next week to explain the Delta Vision Strategic Plan and to hear what the public has to say about it. The meetings will be in Ryde on Wednesday, Aug. 27, and in Stockton on Thursday, Aug. 28. For times and locations click here. A Delta Vision Task Force member or staff member will attend the meetings.
