Dear Tracie and Scott:

How can it be in the public's interest to implement a set of proposals most of which are creating tools and techniques to export our water out of our area and are in direct opposition to our interests, economic, financial and ecological?

You should not finance the SVIRWM plan. You have not consulted local interests, neither the cities nor the private well owners. You do not know the condition of our underlying aquifer or understand the hydrology of the area.

The NCWA nor the JPA represents Butte County or the public interest and the Plan should not be financed.

Most informed sources believe that water saving and economy are the way forward and your assumptions about water consumption are erroneous.

Kind regards:

Alan G. Gair MBA; MBIM; FIIM; MIM.
