DWR Hosting Integrated Regional Water Management Workshops

SACRAMENTO – The Department of Water Resources (DWR) is hosting a series of strategic vision and goal-setting workshops on Integrated Regional Water Management (IRWM). IRWM incorporates the physical, environmental, societal, economic, legal, and jurisdictional aspects of water management into regional solutions. It is practiced across the state by local and regional agencies. Participation in IRWM is voluntary and is supported by the State of California.

Upcoming workshops:

Temecula , April 30, 2013

Burbank, May 1, 2013

Redding, May 15, 2013

Sacramento, May 16, 2013

All workshops are open to the public, free, and scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Workshop addresses and registration information may be found at: <http://www.water.ca.gov/irwm/stratplan/>

DWR has initiated a cooperative effort to develop a strategic plan for the future practice of IRWM.

More information about IRWM and the strategic planning effort may be found at the above website.

The Department of Water Resources operates and maintains the State Water Project, provides dam safety and flood control and inspection services, assists local water districts in water management and water conservation planning, and plans for future statewide water needs.
