FOREWORD

The Department of Water Resources, as Watermaster, is pleased to submit this report on water use and water supply conditions in the Central Basin during the 2010-2011 fiscal year. The report is prepared annually in accordance with the provisions of the Los Angeles County Superior Court Judgment in the Central Basin. The Judgment, together with Part 4, Division 2 of the California Water Code, authorizes this publication and the Department's administration of the Watermaster Service Area.

In 2010-2011, the parties pumped 179,831 acre-feet of their 238,566 acre-feet of allowable extraction and kept 23,905 acre-feet as carryover.

This report includes information on groundwater extractions, use of imported water and recycled water, replenishment operations, administration of the Water Exchange Pool, and budget and finances of Watermaster Service during the 2010-2011 fiscal year. This year, the report has been reorganized. The first part of the report is a discussion of the water conditions in the Central Basin, the second part is the tables, and the third part is the figures.

The Watermaster appreciates the assistance and support received from the many public and private organizations and individuals whose contributions were essential to this report. The success of Watermaster Service is dependent on continued cooperation and communication between the Watermaster and the water users.

Mark Stuart, Chief
Southern Region
and Watermaster

NOTE

The Water Replenishment District of Southern California declared a water emergency on November 19, 2010, potentially triggering additional or changed rights under the Judgment. The declaration has been challenged by various parties in a court proceeding. Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Holly E. Kendig stayed implementation of the declared water emergency and the challenge, pending the outcome of other court proceedings. Thus, this report does not make any allocation of water rights that might be available under the declaration. The Watermaster may supplement this report in the future.

Introduction

The Central Basin Watermaster Service Area overlies about 227 square miles of the Central Basin in southeastern Los Angeles County (Figure 1). The Watermaster Service Area is bounded by the Newport-Inglewood Uplift on the southwest, the Los Angeles-Orange County line on the southeast, and an irregular line that approximately follows Stocker Street, Martin Luther King Boulevard, Alameda Street, Olympic Boulevard, the boundary between the City of Los Angeles and unincorporated East Los Angeles, and the foot of the Merced Hills and Puente Hills on the north. Twenty-three incorporated cities and several unincorporated communities are found within the Watermaster Service Area. Groundwater from the Central Basin provides a substantial portion of the water supply needed by the residents, businesses, and industries in the area overlying the Basin.

More than 50 years ago, groundwater overdraft and declining water levels in the Central Basin threatened the area's groundwater supply and caused the intrusion of sea water into the southern part of the Basin. However, timely legal action and adjudication of the water rights halted the overdraft and prevented further damage to the Basin. Today, groundwater use in the area overlying the Basin is restricted to the allowed pumping allocations by a Superior Court Judgment⁴ and is monitored by a Court-appointed Watermaster.⁵

⁵ Judgment Part II.

The Watermaster assists the Court in the administration and enforcement of the provisions of the Judgment.⁶ Among other duties, the Watermaster monitors extractions and reports all significant water-related events in the Central Basin to the Court and to the parties to the Judgment. The activities of the Watermaster are key components for the effective management of the groundwater resources of the Central Basin.

This report, which is required by the Judgment,⁷ summarizes the activities of the Watermaster, the conditions of the groundwater supply, and the quantities of water used in the area overlying the Basin and for the replenishment of the Basin; it also includes a financial report for the 2010-2011 fiscal year.⁸

Water Use

Water used in the area overlying the Central Basin includes groundwater extracted from the Basin, imported water, and recycled water. Figure 2 shows the water use since 1953.

Extractions by Parties The Judgment limits the amount of groundwater each party may extract annually from the Central Basin.⁹ This limit, referred to as the Allowed Pumping Allocation (APA), is shown in Table 1 for each party. A recipient of Exchange Pool water may pump the amount released to it in addition to its APA. The volume of water extracted from each well is reported monthly.¹⁰ Table 2 lists, by party, the volume of groundwater extracted each month from each active well in the Basin. Figure 3 shows the pattern of groundwater extractions during 2010-2011.

To provide flexibility in the control of groundwater extractions, the Judgment contains provisions allowing each party to carry over into the succeeding administrative year¹¹ a portion of its unused APA and in some cases to over extract.¹² This flexibility was necessary to meet unforeseen water demand.

One provision allows each party to carry over from one administrative year to another any unused APA not to exceed 20 percent of its APA or 20 acre-feet, whichever is greater.¹³ In addition, any unused Exchange Pool water can be carried over into the following fiscal year.

Overextractions The Judgment provides for overextractions under certain conditions.¹⁴ A party may over extract by 20 percent of its APA or 20 acre-feet, whichever is greater.¹⁵ Under certain circumstances, parties may over extract in greater amounts; however, prior approval by the Watermaster must be obtained.¹⁶ Overextractions must be made up in the following administrative year unless Watermaster concludes that to require making up overextraction would create an unreasonable hardship for the party. In such cases, Watermaster may grant relief from making up the overextractions in the following year, such as prorating repayment of overextractions over a period of up to five years.¹⁷

Table 3 lists the names of parties that have over extracted groundwater during the year and shows the amount of overextraction by each party. During 2010-2011, five parties had a combined overextraction of 21,903.78 acre-feet. The table also identifies one party, State of California, that has over extracted in violation of the Judgment.¹⁸

Extractions by Nonparties Table 4 shows extractions by nonparties totaled 5.29 acre-feet. Extractions by nonparties are shown by well and by month in Table 2.

Extractions of Contaminated Groundwater Any party may petition the Water Replenishment District of Southern California (WRD) for a Non-consumptive Water Use Permit as part of a project to remedy or ameliorate groundwater contamination. If the petition is granted, the party may extract the groundwater without the production counting against its production rights.¹⁹ Table 5 lists current Non-consumptive Water Use Permits issued by WRD and the amounts extracted under those permits during 2010-2011.

Transfers of Allowed Pumping Allocations Each year, APAs are transferred between parties through sales and leases. Table 6 shows the succession of APAs in the Basin as of June 30, 2011. Sales have reduced the number of parties from 508 in 1966-1967 to 131 in 2010-2011. Figure 4 shows samples of suggested water rights transfer agreements.

Table 7 shows transfers of APAs through sales and leases. During 2010-2011 there were three sales of APAs that totaled 82.00 acre-feet and 53 leases that totaled 22,907.12 acre-feet. The ownership of its APA by each of the parties as of June 30, 2011, is also shown in Table 1.

When land on which water rights have been developed is sold, the Watermaster must be furnished a copy of the sale document if the water rights are sold as well. The sale document specifying the exact amount of water rights is required for the proper accounting of the water rights. The water rights do not pass to the new land owner unless the sale document specifically says that the water rights were sold with the land.

In transferring water rights, parties must specify (1) the type of right being exchanged (i.e., APA, normal carryover, or drought carryover), (2) the amount of right to the nearest 0.01 acre-foot, and (3) the period of the lease, if applicable. Moreover, all leases must be made on a fiscal year basis and be executed by the parties and received by Watermaster by June 30 of the year in which the lease is effective.

¹⁸ See further discussion of this violation below in the Significant Water-Related Events section of this report.

¹⁹ Judgment Part III. Subpart B. 7.

For parties wanting to buy, sell, or lease water rights, Watermaster maintains a web page.²⁰ Any party wishing to be listed should call the Watermaster. This is a courtesy to assist parties unable to resolve problems regarding an excess or deficiency of water supply. Watermaster will make no recommendation regarding transactions conducted relative to the use of this service.

Exchange Pool The Judgment authorizes an Exchange Pool to provide additional water rights to parties without sufficient water.²¹ If a party's estimated water requirement for the following fiscal year exceeds its total available water supply, that party may request additional water from the Exchange Pool. Any party wishing to purchase water from the Exchange Pool must file the request with the Watermaster before April 1. If no requests are received by April 1, the Exchange Pool will not operate in the following fiscal year, and Watermaster will not process Exchange Pool forms. Table 8 shows that there were no requests for Exchange Pool water during 2010-2011.

Status of Wells In the Central Basin there are 312 active extraction wells and 220 inactive extraction wells (Table 2). The locations of the active wells are shown on Figure 3. Table 9 shows four new wells were completed and 18 wells were destroyed.

Meter Testing Program Accurate measurement of groundwater extractions is essential for the successful management of groundwater in the Central Basin. Therefore, Watermaster requires an operative water meter to be installed at each extraction well.²² It is the responsibility of each party to ensure that its meter and test facilities are installed properly and are maintained in good working condition. It is the goal of Watermaster to test the water meter at every active extraction well at least once every two years or when parties request a meter calibration.²³ Watermaster tests meters by volumetric or pitot comparisons. Parties are notified to make repairs when the meter registers beyond 5 percent accuracy. Meters that register beyond 10 percent accuracy may be considered faulty, and reported readings could be subject to adjustments as corrections to well production records.²⁴

During 2010-2011, Watermaster visited 65 parties, tested 235 meters, and performed 18 well investigations. Tests showed that five meters were more than 5 percent fast, with registration accuracies of plus 12 percent to plus 110 percent, and six meters were more than 5 percent slow, with registration accuracies of minus 7 percent to minus 34 percent. Meters at six sites were inoperative, and meters at five sites could not be tested because there were no test points, or the pumps could not be operated.

Water Supply

Water supplies available to the communities overlying the Central Basin include groundwater extracted from the Basin, imported surface water and groundwater, and recycled water.

Precipitation Because layers of materials of low permeability overlie the primary water-producing aquifers throughout much of the Central Basin and largely impermeable surfaces (i.e., pavement and buildings) cover most of the forebay areas, precipitation over the Basin has relatively little direct influence on the replenishment of the groundwater in the Basin. However, during years of high rainfall, increased runoff from the areas upstream of the Central Basin would result in increased replenishment to the Basin, and probably decreased water demand by the water users overlying the Basin which, in turn, could result in lower rates of groundwater extraction from the Basin.

During 2010-2011, 17.15 inches of precipitation were measured at 96th and Central, 18.46 inches at Montana Ranch, 13.55 inches at La Mirada, 20.61 inches at the Whittier City Yard 19.28 inches at USC, and 19.28 inches at Imperial Yard.²⁵ Figure 1 shows the locations of these precipitation stations, and Figure 5 shows the monthly average of the rainfall measured at these stations. Based on these six stations, the mean precipitation over the Central Basin was 17.56 inches, which is 128 percent of the long-term mean precipitation at these six stations.²⁶

Groundwater Recharge Natural replenishment of the groundwater in the Central Basin is largely from surface flow and underflow through Whittier Narrows from the San Gabriel Valley. As mentioned above, little rainfall over the Central Basin would likely infiltrate into deeper aquifers of the Basin.

Intentional replenishment of groundwater in the Central Basin is accomplished by spreading water at the Rio Hondo and the San Gabriel River spreading grounds in the Montebello forebay (Figure 1). The sources of this replenishment water include local storm runoff, purchased imported water, and recycled water from three reclamation plants located upstream of the Central Basin.²⁷ Table 10 shows the sources and quantities of water spread to replenish the groundwater. In 2010-2011, replenishment water included 107,707 acre-feet of local storm runoff, which is 68,725 acre-feet more than in 2009-2010, 41,791 acre-feet of recycled water, and 24,233 acre-feet of purchased imported water. Local runoff accounted for 62 percent of the water, recycled water accounted for 24 percent, and the purchased imported water accounted for 14 percent.

²⁵ Provisional data provided by Los Angeles County Department of Public Works.

²⁶ Calculation of the long-term precipitation included the Downey Fire Department precipitation station rather than the Imperial Yard station.

In Lieu Replenishment During the 1965-1966 water year,²⁸ the WRD, in cooperation with the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California (MWD), began an in lieu replenishment program. WRD may contract with any producer having access to supplemental water that could be used in lieu of extracting groundwater from the Basin.²⁹ The use of supplemental water in lieu of pumping groundwater does not change a party's water rights,³⁰ but it counts as water pumped under the Judgment. The program may be used to (1) alter pumping patterns within the Basin, (2) replenish the groundwater in areas of low transmissivity where conventional recharge techniques are ineffective, (3) heighten the effect of injecting water to form a sea water barrier by reducing extractions, (4) reduce the amount of replenishment water purchased by WRD, and (5) reduce the annual extractions from the Basin.

Table 11 shows that the City of Long Beach participated in the in lieu replenishment program.

Imported Water Water is imported from northern California via the State Water Project and from the Colorado River and is made available to water users by MWD through its member agencies: Central Basin Municipal Water District (CBMWD) and the Cities of Compton, Long Beach, and Los Angeles. The City of Los Angeles also imports water from the Owens River-Mono Basin, and the California Domestic Water Company, the San Gabriel Valley Water Company, the Suburban Water Systems, and the City of Whittier import groundwater from the San Gabriel Valley groundwater basin, which lies to the northeast and upstream of the Central Basin. Table 12 shows that in fiscal year 2010-2011, a total of 123,547 acre-feet of water was imported to the area overlying the Central Basin.

Recycled Water Table 13 shows the amount of recycled water used in the area overlying the Central Basin during 2010-2011 was 13,291 acre-feet. This amount is 129 acre-feet more than that used in 2009-2010. These amounts do not include the recycled water used to replenish groundwater in the Central Basin.

Alamitos Barrier Project Sea water intrusion in the Alamitos Gap near the mouth of the San Gabriel River poses a threat to the groundwater in the Central Basin. The Alamitos Barrier Project is designed to prevent sea water intrusion into the fresh water aquifers of the Basin. The location of the barrier is shown on Figure 1. The Los Angeles County Department of Public Works operates the barrier project, which comprises extraction wells that create a groundwater trough and injection wells that create a groundwater ridge to halt sea water intrusion. In addition, the project includes observation wells that are used to monitor groundwater levels and quality in the area. Table 14 shows the quantities of imported water and recycled water injected into the barrier wells, the quantity of water extracted, and the numbers of wells that comprise the project. Figure 6 shows the quantities of water used in the barrier since operation of the barrier began in 1965. The sea water intrusion problem has been contained by the barrier project.

Watermaster Income, Expenditures and Budget

Table 15 shows that Watermaster income was $692,808 and that expenditures were $529,582.

The Judgment requires Watermaster to prepare an annual budget. The total amount billed was $586,000, and the total amount paid was $586,144.45. The budget was submitted to the Parties on May 3, 2010, and it was adopted as the final budget on June 1, 2010. Table 16 shows the approved budget of $592,000.

Table 17 shows the apportionment of the budget among the parties.³³ A 5 percent penalty is assessed if payments become delinquent. Eight parties were penalized because their payments were not made within the allowable 30 days after service of the invoice. Late fees totaling $114.90 were collected for delayed payments.

Significant Water-Related Events

California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) Caltrans (State of California) pumped 21,617.68 acre-feet of water during 1997-1998 through 2009-2010 and 610.01 acre-feet in 2010-2011. Since 1999-2000, Caltrans has been pumping about 1,000 acre-feet of water per year and has been discharging this water to the Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Rivers after treatment through granulated activated carbon units.

In a letter to the Director of the Department of Water Resources, dated September 25, 2008, the Central Basin Water Association said that taking legal action against Caltrans to address overextraction from the Central Basin “may at best confuse the issues before the court [regarding groundwater storage], and at worst create unnecessary delay and difficulty for a judge to resolve both questions.” Similar informal statements were made by CBWA members to the Watermaster at meetings circa 2008. Because the CBWA represents the majority of the water right holders, the Watermaster suspended its effort to address the overextractions of groundwater by Caltrans.

Storage of Water in the Central Basin Water rights in the Central Basin were adjudicated in the 1960s. A provision to store water in the Basin for later extraction was not included in the Judgment. During the past several years, DWR has strongly encouraged and has funded efforts by the parties to negotiate agreements that would allow them to store water in the Basin for later extraction. On March 30, 2009, some of the parties to the Judgment filed a motion to amend the Judgment to allow for water storage in the Basin. The Los Angeles County Superior Court assigned the motion to Judge Holly E. Kendig.

Prior to the hearing, the Cities of Cerritos, Downey, and Signal Hill sought to enjoin the amendment claiming that the public entities seeking the amendment did not comply with CEQA prior to filing with the Court. This matter was assigned to Judge James Chalfant who denied the motion on February 9, 2010. Judge Chalfant held that the amendment proponents did not approve a “project,” the groundwater storage program, when the parties joined to file papers with the Court. The groundwater storage program could only be approved if the Court granted the amendment (courts are public entities exempt from CEQA).

Opponents of the proposed amendment to the Judgment also challenged the jurisdiction of the Court to hear the motion to amend. On May 12, 2010, Judge Kendig found that the original Judgment did not encompass storage rights. Therefore, she could not now add this provision to the Judgment. She ruled that proponents of the storage amendment, if they choose to proceed, would need to file a new complaint and undergo an entirely new proceeding, including trial, rather than attempting to amend the current Judgment.

On August 19, 2010, the proponents of the storage amendment filed notice appealing Judge Kendig’s ruling. That appeal is currently pending before the Court of Appeal.

In addition, please see the note on page iv.

Central Basin Groundwater Storage Plan On February 28, 2011, CBMWD filed a Notice of Preparation for a Groundwater Storage Plan for the Central Basin. The plan proposes acquiring water and storing it in the Basin. CBMWD is preparing a Program Environmental Impact Report (PEIR) based on an Initial Study released in March 2011. CBMWD held meetings to collect public input during the environmental scoping phase for the proposed storage plan PEIR.
