

California Water Plan 2009

Wednesday's Update

July 8, 2009

Subscribe

Comments/Suggestions

Unsubscribe

This weekly electronic newsletter is designed to keep you current on California Water Plan news. We welcome comments, suggestions and any news tips that may be of interest to water planners.

Furloughs force delay of Water Plan advisory meeting to Aug. 13

The California Water Plan staff is rescheduling its Advisory Committee's July 24 meeting because it falls on a State government furlough Friday. It will be held instead on Thursday, Aug. 13, at the Doubletree Hotel in Sacramento. Check the calendar page for other Water Plan meetings and a link to the 2009 Meeting Materials page for the AC meeting agenda and materials when available.

Workshop next week on climate change laws and local government

The non-profit, non-partisan Local Government Commission will hold a workshop in in Oakland on Wednesday, July 15, to inform local governments about climate change laws. The same workshop will be held in Sacramento on Tuesday, July 30. The day-long sessions will cover how climate change laws — AB 32 and SB 375 — relate to local government. The workshops will also cover economic benefits, funding opportunities and model programs. You can find more information here.

Materials from June 16 Water Plan session now posted

Materials from a June 16 public workshop on the California Water Plan Update 2009 are now available on the Water Plan website. You can find the PDF documents here. The posted material includes a scenarios overview, the water balance pages from the Highlights, and a Highlights document walk-through.

CPUC posts webcast of recycling workshop held last month

The California Public Utilities Commission has posted online a webcast and presentations of its June 24 workshop titled Water Recycling Workshop: Challenges and Opportunities for Regional Collaboration in Water Re-Use. You can find the information here.

Mark your calendars! Fall workshops to air State transportation plan

Caltrans plans six workshops statewide in September and October to get public feedback on its California Transportation Plan 2035. Water is being considered in the CTP update along with assessing the effects on other resources and their management. You can download a CTP brochure and a schedule of the workshops.

Click on links below for more information.

Upcoming Meetings

www.waterplan.water.ca.gov