

California Water Plan 2009

Wednesday's Update

July 15, 2009

Subscribe

Comments/Suggestions

Unsubscribe

This weekly electronic newsletter is designed to keep you current on California Water Plan news. We welcome comments, suggestions and any news tips that may be of interest to water planners.

Agenda posted for Water Plan advisory meeting on Aug. 13

The California Water Plan staff has rescheduled its Advisory Committee's July 24 meeting because it falls on a State government furlough Friday. It will be held instead on Thursday, Aug. 13, at the Doubletree Hotel in Sacramento. Click here for the meeting agenda and materials.

DWR posts 2007-2009 drought timeline

DWR has posted a new 2007-2009 Drought Timeline. It tracks the drought and its effects from December 2007 to last month. The document has been posted here. And by clicking here, you can also check on the storage levels of our reservoirs here.

Materials from June 16 Water Plan session now posted

Materials from a June 16 public workshop on the California Water Plan Update 2009 are now available on the Water Plan website. You can find the PDF documents here. The posted material includes a scenarios overview, the water balance pages from the Highlights, and a Highlights document walk-through.

Floodplain organization plans September conference in San Jose

The Floodplain Management Association (FMA) has posted its program for its 2009 Annual Conference that will be held in San Jose from Sept. 8-11. The program includes topics such as funding for floodplain infrastructure; solutions for leveraging local, state and federal resources; innovation in green infrastructure design; cutting edge tools for floodplain mapping, analysis and sustainable development; and innovative partnerships with community-based organizations. For more information visit the association's web site.

Water symposium next week asks, Can we sustain communities?

The 2009 Summer Symposium titled A Time for Changing Values, Ideas, and Solutions in Water Management: Are California's Communities Sustainable? will be held July 23 — a week from tomorrow — in Sacramento. It's sponsored by the Sacramento Chapter of the Environmental & Water Resources Institute of the American Society of Civil Engineers / Floodplain Management Association / ASCE Committee on Sustainability. The meeting announcement, details and registration information can be found here.

Click on links below for more information.

Upcoming Meetings

www.waterplan.water.ca.gov