

California Water Plan eNews

Wednesday's Update

Dec 15, 2010

Subscribe

Comments/Suggestions

Unsubscribe

This weekly electronic newsletter is designed to keep you current on California Water Plan news. We welcome comments, suggestions and any news tips that may be of interest to water planners.

Save the date for the Tribal Advisory Committee Water Plan meeting

The date has been set for the the inaugural meeting of the Tribal Advisory Committee for California Water Plan Update 2013. It will be held Friday, Feb. 25, in Sacramento. The Update 2013 Tribal Engagement website will have updates on the exact location and meeting materials as they become available. It also has details on a Tribal teleconference and webinar to be held Thursday, Jan. 6.

White paper looks at integrated natural resource management in California

The Natural Resources Agency has released a white paper based on last October's policy summit that examined the future of natural resource management. The report contains a range of recommendations for consideration by the governor elect's administration. They are intended to promote integrated natural resource management in California. You can read the report here.

Comments now being accepted on California water resources report

The Delta Stewardship Council has started accepting comments on a new Water Resources White Paper that is available online. The report addresses beneficial water uses, potential conflicts among those uses, and future risks. Comments can be sent to this email address.

DSC sets agenda for two-day meeting in West Sacramento

The agenda for this week's meeting of the Delta Stewardship Council (DSC) is now available online. The two-day meeting will be held this Thursday and Friday, Dec. 16 and 17, in West Sacramento. The complete agenda, and links to related materials, are available on the DSC website.

SGC releases 2010 California Regional Progress Report

The California Strategic Growth Council has released the 2010 California Regional Progress Report. It is a resource intended to help improve the measurement, understanding, and achievement of sustainability for regions in the state, and California as a whole.

DWR webinar looks at Urban Water Management Plans

Water Use and Efficiency will host a webinar tomorrow, Thursday, Dec. 16, to provide information and answer questions about the suggested format and changes for Urban Water Management Plans. Details on joining the webinar can be found on the DWR website.

IRWM posts new schedule of upcoming events

Integrated Regional Water Management has posted a new schedule of upcoming events. It includes a summary of events and due dates for the component grant programs. There are also links that provide details on the individual items.

Click on links below for more information.

Upcoming Meetings

Water Plan Web site