

California Water Plan eNews

VISION

- Public Health, Safety, Quality of Life
- Viability, Productivity, Economic Growth
- Healthy Ecosystem, Cultural Heritage

Foundational Actions for SUSTAINABLE WATER USES

- Use Water Efficiently
- Protect Water Quality
- Expand Environmental Stewardship

Initiatives for RELIABLE WATER SUPPLIES

- Improved Integrated Regional Water Management
- Modernize Statewide Water and Flood Management Systems

Wednesday's Update

March 2, 2011

Follow DWR on Facebook

Subscribe

Comments/Suggestions

Unsubscribe

This weekly electronic newsletter is designed to keep you current on California Water Plan news. We welcome comments, suggestions and any news tips that may be of interest to water planners.

Save the date for the next Public AC meeting

The next meeting of the Public Advisory Committee will be Wednesday, March 30, in Sacramento. The committee works to form a comprehensive approach for water planning and management. The meeting location and other details are available here.

Task force begins look at alternative best management practices

The first meeting of the Commercial, Industrial, and Institutional (CII) Task Force took place this week in Sacramento. It is working to develop alternative best management practices for CII water users. Future meetings will be posted on the California Urban Water Conservation Council website. The task force will submit a report to the legislature by April 1, 2012.

California Water Commission to tour Cal Poly irrigation and research center

Members of the California Water Commission will be touring the Irrigation Training and Research Center at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, on Thursday, March 10. It will include a demonstration and discussion of the flow measurement options that are available for agricultural water users. More details and a map are available in the meeting notice. The tour will be open to the public.

CFCC schedules five funding fairs throughout California

The California Finance Coordination Committee (CFCC) has released a schedule of five funding fairs to be held throughout the state. The CFCC funds a variety of water projects including those that address water quality and supply. The funding fairs begin Tuesday, March 8, in Visalia and conclude Tuesday, May 24, in Sacramento. A CFCC flier has the complete schedule.

Register now for IRWM conference in Sacramento

Registration is now open for the upcoming conference on integrated regional water management. DWR and the Water Education Foundation are co-sponsoring "Working Together for California's Water Future" on May 24-25 in Sacramento. The Water Education Foundation website has details and registration instructions.

Workshops for urban water suppliers to be held this month

DWR invites urban water suppliers to attend one of the upcoming workshops on 2010 Urban Water Management Plans. The workshops will include information on developing water use baselines and targets, a new data online submittal tool, and the final Guidebook for 2010 Urban Water Management Plans. The workshops are being held throughout the state through Friday, March 11. The complete list of meetings and times is available on the DWR website.

Click on links below for more information.

Upcoming Meetings

Water Plan Website