

DWR is modifying the August 11, 2004 Water Use Efficiency Proposal Solicitation Package (PSP). The deadline of October 12, 2004 for submitting application is now extended to January 3, 2005 (DWR may set the deadline for applications to December 17, 2004 to enable DWR to process all applications and award grants before June 30, the end of fiscal year).

We plan to post the modified PSP on this web site from September 30 until October 29 for public comment. At that time a modified Final PSP will be released on this web site. The Final PSP will announce the application deadline and public workshop dates. Three public workshops will be held in November. The public workshops will provide information about the modified Proposal Solicitation Package (PSP); describe the application, the guidelines for review and selection process.
